Is it possible that what we dream, is actually happening in another dimension?

Happens a lot for me

I've met at least quite a few tulpas from dreams that lasted at leas... or two in dream time compared to the average of five hours outside

If I'm consciously in a dream for more than three months in dream time, then that means a new tulpa will walk in afterwards

Those long dreams actually sound really cool. It just felt odd to me because my dream was the equivalent of one day long, and the tulpa that came from it is surprisingly developed.
